Lab work without a good lab is inefficient and frustrating. Brown Engineers understand this, and therefore work with you to create the perfect mobile lab from a technician's perspective, with all the right equipment in all the right places.

- clean work environment
- maximum interior workspace
- exterior storage

Like all Brown Specialty Vehicles, our mobile laboratories are available in a number of different equipment configurations, including fifth wheel and pull-tongue trailers and different cab and chassis combinations with a Brown Custom Module.
